

Griffondor

The image shows the storefront of a store named "Griffondor". The name is written in a stylized, gothic-style font in a light color against a dark background above the entrance. The entrance is framed by two white, classical-style columns. The store has large glass windows on either side of the entrance, displaying various items. The ground in front is paved with light-colored tiles.